

Three Legged Legs

In the year of 2005 three creative warriors, Greg Gunn, Casey Hunt and Reza Rasoli, joined forces and merged brains to create a new breed of directorial studio.

Since, they've fought to organize efforts for the global betterment of writing, direction, animation, design and any other interesting form of media. Their solid partnership with Green Dot Films has ensured their continued conquest through the forging of many strong agency relationships with like-minded people committed to creating excitement in every project.

Equally comfortable behind a camera, in front of a computer, or over a sketchbook – the trio uses whatever combination of techniques necessary to create memorable storytelling and fantastic visual feats of triumph.

Three Legged Legs is pleased to meet you.

A few words from the gang,

“Look, we’re not a factory. Think of us as the lil’ Mom & Pop joint on the corner.

We’re a trio of art school graduates that have found ourselves in the exciting space that is the commercial world. We always try to approach each project with a deliberate DIY mentality.

For us its all about trying and experiencing new things. The three of us have completely different, yet complimentary skill sets. We learned early on, versatility is key.

Agencies really appreciate that we approach every project differently. It’s very liberating. Whether it’s high end, photo-real visual effects, purely editorial live action, experimental design or hand-drawn traditional animation, we strive to create something unique that serve’s each clients needs.

It’s not about being different for difference sake...”

"And when it comes down to actually making the job, we're the guys actually writing the treatments & designing the look. We're on set directing all aspects of the shoot.

During production, we're right there in the trenches alongside our freelancers doing everything they do; storyboarding, modeling, animating, compositing and finishing shots. We're all about completely immersing ourselves in the process. No seriously, the idea of assuming a distant creative director role makes us squirm.

We've received a lot of positive feedback & kudos for posting such in depth breakdowns of our process. We don't have any secrets. The behind the scenes stuff is out there in hopes that those watching will feel the specialness in our process and our love for the craft.

We surround ourselves with an intimate creative team, but it wouldn't be a 3LL project if we didn't literally have a hand in making what you see.

At the end of the day it all boils down to the work, and quite often for us, that work feels a lot more like play. Drop us a line, and lets make something together!"
